Office of the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay: Bombay, 19th March 1906.

Sir,

With reference to Government Resolution No. 4421, dated 22nd August 1904, General Department, I have the honour to forward the Triennial Report on the Lunatic Asylums of the Bombay Presidency for the years 1903-05.

2. On the statistical tables appended at the end of the report, I beg to make the following remarks:—

The total population of the Asylums during the year 1905 was 1,203 as compared with 1,183 in 1904 and 1,114 in 1903. The mean population for the triennium under review was 1,167, or 81 more than for the preceding triennium (1900-02). The number admitted and re-admitted during the year 1905 was 298 males and 69 females—total 367 against 401 (males 330 and females 71) in 1904 and 317 (males 271 and females 46) in 1903, the average admissions and re-admissions during the three years 1903-05 being 299 males and 62 females as compared with 253 males and 54 females in the previous three years (1900-02). Of the total treated, 105 males and 20 females were discharged cured as compared with 112 males and 15 females in 1904 and 72 males and 21 females in 1903, the mean of the triennia 1900-02 and 1903-05 being 63 males and 13 females and 96 males and 19 females respectively. Those transferred to friends as "improved" and "not improved" numbered 107 males and 17 females—total 124 against 151 (males 137 and females 14) in 1904 and 167 (males 151 and females 16) in 1903, the average number for the years 1903-05 being 132 males and 16 females as compared with 111 males and 21 females in the previous triennium (1900-02). There were 52 deaths in 1905 against 58 and 66 in 1904 and 1903 respectively, the mean mortality during the triennium 1903-05 being 59, or a decrease of 37 over that of the preceding three years (1900-02). The daily average strength was 676·4 males and 191·5 females—total 867·9 as compared with 823·8 (males 649·7 and females 174·1) in 1904 and 797·0 (males 627·8 and females 169·2) in 1903. The mean strength for the two triennial periods 1900-02 and 1903-05 was 786·5 (males 609·6 and females 176·9) and 829·6 (males 651·3 and females 178·3) respectively. The percentages of cures to the daily average strength were 15·5 males and 10·4 females in 1905 against 17·2 males and 8·6 females in 1904 and 11·5 males and 12·4 females in 1903, the mean ratio for the three years (1903-05) being 14·7 males and 10·7 females compared with 10·3 males and 7·3 females for the previous triennium (1900-02). The ratio per cent. of mortality to the daily average strength was 6·2 males and 5·2 females in 1905 as against 6·2 males and 10·3 females in 1904 and 8·0 males and 9·5 females in 1903. The mean death-rate during the three years 1903-05 was low as compared with that of the three years 1900-02, viz. 7·1 per cent. (males 6·8 and females 8·4) against 12·2 per cent. (males 12·5 and females 11·3), and would have been less, had it not been for an unfortunate outbreak of cholera in the Dhárwár Asylum in June 1905.

The health of the inmates was, on the whole, satisfactory, the daily average sick being 21·9 as compared with 23·6 in 1904 and 34·2 in 1903, the mean of the triennia 1900-02 and 1903-05 being 40·5 and 26·5, and the average ratio of sick to the daily average strength 5·1 and 3·2, respectively. As stated above, cholera broke out in the Dhárwár Lunatic Asylum on 4th June 1905, and 6 inmates were attacked, of whom 4 died. The Superintendent of the Asylum attributed the outbreak to the following circumstance:—"Owing to drought due to short rainfall, the well in the Asylum garden, from which drinking water was usually obtained, ran dry and water was carted in casks from the jail well. This supply was evidently not contaminated, as the prisoners in the jail were being similarly supplied and no cases occurred among them. In the Asylum, however, there was another water cart used for drawing water from an adjacent tank for the garden, and it is believed the infection was conveyed by this water cart either by some water from it having been emptied into the drinking water cisterns, or more probably from a vessel contaminated by this dirty water having been used to carry drinking water. The precautions used to stop the epidemic were as follows :—The whole of the drinking and bathing water for the lunatics was boiled, cisterns and water cart were filled with a strong solution of permanganate of potash and left so for 12 hours; and all the vessels used by the lunatics were boiled. These measures apparently stopped the epidemic."

The total number of criminal insanes was 142 males and 20 females as compared with 133 males and 19 females in 1904, and 117 males and 17 females in 1903, the triennial period under report showing on an average an increase of 17 over the previous triennium (1900-02). The daily average strength averaged 119·8 against 112·2 in 1904 and 109·1 in 1903, the mean of these three years being 113·7 as compared with 105·8 of the preceding ones (1900-02).

Of the total admissions during the two triennia, there were—

During the triennium under review as well as in that of the previous one, soldiers furnished the largest number of admissions, followed by labourers, clerks, domestic servants, and merchants and traders.

The total number of insanes treated for the various types of insanity and and the results are summarized in the subjoined table :—

Statement No. VII gives the causation among the lunatics in all the Asylums. A cause is furnished in 662 cases against 629 in 1904 and 603 in 1903, and is unknown in 541 as compared with 554 and 511 in 1904 and 1903 respectively. Regarding the latter, it may be stated that, though every endeavour is made to trace the cause at the time of admission into the Asylums, it is very difficult to discover the same in a great number who are either mendicants or who have no friends to give an account of them or of their previous habits. Of the known causes, 535 cases are attributed to physical, and 127 to moral causes, as compared with 496 and 133 in 1904 and 451 and 152 in 1903 respectively. The use of intoxicating drugs and over-indulgence in spirituous liquors, previous attacks, masturbation, hereditary predisposition, epilepsy, sunstroke, fever and congenital diseases accounted for most of the admissions.

The following table shows the results of patients treated during the three years under review, as compared with the previous triennial period:—

The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 1,81,259-8-10 against Rs. 1,83,712-14-3 in 1904 and Rs. 1,60,214-3-7 in 1903. If the sums received from paying patients and from the sale of goods to the public, and those made over to the Asylums for asylum purposes, etc., be deducted, the net cost would be Rs. 1,35,085-13-2 against Rs. 1,36,618-7-11 in 1904 and Rs. 1,20,926-3-5 in 1903, the increase in 1904 is attributed to a larger expenditure on buildings and in 1905 to an increased number of insanes, as well as to an increase of pay to Asylum servants and entertainment of additional establishment in almost all the Asylums. The mean cost for the triennial periods 1900-02 and 1903-05 was Rs. 1,15,144-12-6 and Rs. 1,30,876-13-6 respectively. The net cost per head of daily average strength was Rs. 155-10-4 as compared with Rs. 165-13-5 in 1904 and Rs. 151-11-8 in 1903, the mean for the triennial period under review showing an increase of Rs. 11-5-9 over that of the previous triennium (1900-02), viz., Rs. 157-12-2 against Rs. 146-6-5.

Rs. 1,841-14-11 were expended during the year 1905 for the amusement of insanes, against Rs. 1,650-2-9 in 1904, and Rs. 1,705-11-9 in 1903, the average expenditure for the triennial period 1903-05 being Rs. 1,733-9-10 as compared with Rs. 1,651-11-6 in the preceding one (1900-02).

The total receipts from the Manufacturing Department amounted to Rs. 3,789-9-2 and debits to Rs. 1,130-3-11, showing a profit of Rs. 2,659-5-3 against Rs. 2,994 7-2 in 1904 and Rs. 2,755-10-2 in 1903, the mean profit for the triennium 1903-05 being Rs. 2,803-2-2, or Rs. 184-2-2 more than that for the previous three years.

3. The usual annual repairs to all the Asylum buildings, viz. Colába, Naupáda (Thána), Ratnágiri, Poona, Dhárwár, Ahmedabad and Hyderabad, have been carried out by the Public Works Department. The unsatisfactory condition of the first named institution has long been recognised, but steps are immediately to be taken to put in hand the building of the New Central Asylum to be located at Yerrávda near Poona.

4. The water-supply was good and ample for all purposes, except at Ratnágiri where the full allowance of water, stipulated by the Ratnágiri Municipality, has not yet been given.

5. The importance of finding work for the insanes is recognised, and much is done by the Superintendents of the various Asylums to suitably employ those who are able and willing to work in the factories attached to the institutions, in the gardens, and in other extra-mural occupations. Various kinds of recreation and aumsements are also provided, such as music games, books, periodicals, etc. Native musicians are periodically engaged from outside, and on principal holidays extra diet and sweetmeats are issued ; in short the treatment of the insanes is carried on, as far as possible, according to the most modern ideas.

6. During the year 1905 the official visitors were, as a rule, regular in their attendance at all the Asylums. At Naupáda (Thána) the 1st Assistant Collector of Thána and Sir Bhalchandra Krishna Bhatvadekar, Kt., were unable to attend one meeting owing to unavoidable causes; at Ahmedabad the Officer Commanding the Station and the Senior Medical Officer failed to attend any meeting throughout the year, and at Dhárwár the District Superintendent of Police was absent from the three meetings to which he was summoned.

7. I beg to state, for the information of Government, that during the year 1905 the Superintendents of the several Asylums performed their duties in a most exemplary manner, and that the conduct of the subordinate staff has, on the whole, been satisfactory.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. P. GREANY, M.D., Surg.-Genl., I. M. S.,

Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay.
